Kick-off Asian Heritage Month with a spectacular afternoon of music, mime, amazing costumes, martial arts and acrobatics featuring:

The New York Chinese Chorus performing a repertoire that includes Chinese folk songs, classic tunes and popular numbers from the 1930s to 1960s. The director and conductor of the chorus is Professor Guojun Wu, a distinguished graduate and long-time faculty member of the Shanghai Conservatory. The accompanist will be 17-year-old American-born piano prodigy, Eric Liu.

The Qi Shu Fang Peking Opera Company performing a scene from "The Crossroads: Fighting in the Dark" - a rollicking and joyous piece of drama based on an ancient Chinese folktale that features scintillating martial arts and acrobatics.

Special thanks to Tai Wang, member of the New York Chinese Chorus and honorary director of the LaGuardia Foundation board.
